

Topic: History and Geography

- At First Tower Primary School we believe history and geography are essential to the understanding of one's place in the world.
- We teach subject skills through topics which are planned to stimulate curiosity and deepen understanding about how we have come to be where we are at this time in history and how the world has developed naturally and been developed by man.
- Here at First Tower, we recognise the importance of the skills needed to study history and geography and how they can also be used across all school subjects and beyond school.
- We have labelled these skills under the headings: chronological understanding; investigations; knowledge and understanding; interpretations and presenting, organizing and communicating information. Learning opportunities promote independent thinking, collaborative tasks and local knowledge.
